Context

With globalization, relationships between different countries and nationalities in a business context tend to be more frequent. The mission of the Master of International Business (MIB) is to provide students with skills and expertise that will help them succeed in the global context. The MIB provides a truly international and multicultural learning environment, which makes its graduates very attractive to potential employers worldwide.

The MIB program aims at providing students with general and disciplinary knowledge and expertise in the various domains of international business. This includes:

- » Good knowledge of business systems and processes at both strategic and operational levels;
- » Strong understanding of the global business environment, and its recent major trends;
- » Applied management skills in international settings;

- » Comprehensive view of business functions (human resource management, marketing, operations, supply chain, and more).

In addition, the MIB program provides students with cross-disciplinary skills such as:

- » Good synthesis and analysis capabilities;
- » Organizing and project management skills;
- » Methodological skills.
